AN IMPERIAL BANQUET OF THIS DAY IS SOMETHING OF A SHAM.

Good Things for the Royalties, Substitutes and Adulterated Food for Ordinary Guests---The Philadelphia Boy Who Brews Their German Majesties' Tipple.

"How so?" asked Charles, Why," said the beggar, "I could cut ir Majesty's throat from ear to ear

Charles started up at the idea. The air was bine with caths for a few seconds.
"Offe fish" he wound up. "The very thought is treason. Thou shall shave me no awake citizen who knows the taste and liquor helding capacity of every memorial and prince, big or small the world every memorial for he not only accompanied his master to all the course of Europe, but likewise wait, ed on all the excite majesties that every s.

In the matter of after-dinner Equots, in the matter of after-dinner Equots.

The Emperor of Austria, for Instance. Then there are the children and other changes his wet diet every twenty-four young Princes to be thought of. It's Wis-win dearly loves to give the German champeng in the polson. Native Schammwin is always on his bill of fare to be served with the "potage," pour champen as the polson is subject to give the great the polson in the polson in the polson. Native Schammwin is always on his bill of fare to be served with the "potage," pour champen as the polson is obtained as a play if they were seeing that the polson is obtained, whereupon a trial feast is obtained whereupon a trial feast is obtained. This means that on a certain day or even-poly is obtained to be abled to the poly obtained to be abled to be a play if they were, seeing that the poly obtained to be abled to be a play if they were, seeing that the poly obtained to be abled to be abled to be abled to be a play in the poly obtained to be a play if they were, seeing that the poly obtained to be abled to be a play if they were, seeing that the poly obtained to be abled to be abled to be abled to be a play if they were, seeing that they are not all fed alike; it would be obtained to be abled to be abled to be abled to be a play if they were, seeing that they are not all fed alike; it would be obtained to be abled of the real study has in readiness for the imperial tess and his fract.

That nothing be wasted, half-plant bettles are kept in reserve, and they give a line between the heads of the Kaiser's housement touble than all the countiess gallons. more trouble than all the countries gallons under his care. They are so easily crimped, you know, end Prince Hatzfeld, his chief, the fatheriand. Therefore, no matter of the fatheriand. Therefore, no matter of the fatheriand. Therefore, no matter the kaiser has also his peculiar preferences. In the matter of alternation property what the menu mays, he will give the kingby Hoplers under his charge exactly what is good for them, the crystal carantes from strong, sweet cherry brandy, precured at which he pours the liquor adding deception.

CONSULTATION BETWEEN COOKS and OFFICIALS

The menu is decided upon by a conference

The menu is decided upon by a between the heads of the Kriser's household and the chiefs of the kitchen and celebrate departments. The buyers he and the member of bills are also breast to protest if messeary against, the introduction of dishes that would bring the covers above the average thirty marks ($1.50 for roadingreath and seven marks ($2.50 for the excellencies, and seven marks ($1.50 for ordinary guests.

"But, as all are fed tegether, after the master of bills are also present to protest if necessary against the introduction of dishes that would bring the covers above the average thirty marks (37.50) for the excellencies, and seven marks (67.50) for the excellencies, and seven marks (67.5) for ordinary for it that the Emperors get none of the covers. Some Herr "von." with a hyphenated nome and a long title, done the same time discriminated against?" asks the unsophisticated. In the first place, the Kaiser's guests eat.

In the first place, the Kaiser's guests eat.

various residences are called upon to as-semble at the Schloss, and the necessary extra hands are installed. Among the latter whom their masters willingly "lend" for the Three days before the banquet comes off all the meats, native vegetables, fruits and of to-day is based on regulations issued by Frederick the Great, who was always im-agining that his cooks were robbing him. Our court marshal, Count Eulenburg, from Jim Wiegand, a native of Philadelphis and cuplearer to his Majesty of Gormany.

As such he accupies a similar resistion of true as that which Charles II's barber hied and forefield.

"I consider," he said, "that none of your Majesty's officers have a greater trust than I."

"How spill as first from the latter proposed the close to see his manual ma might be eating herring and sour cucum-bers for dessert now, as was the warrior ed by disciples of two different schools a German, capable of making delicious naofter the Kaiser's breakfast and supper. Krantzler's famous establishment Unter den Linden furnishes the cakes and ices, the first named being conveyed to timed to arrive during the night preceding the banquet. They come mostly from France and Italy, and are cooked either in copper or earthenware pots.

All the means and ragouts are carried to the table on immense eliver platters; at the dining hall they arrive in metal pans heated by sicohol lamps. Only the prin-cipal courses are served to the guests on silver, for the by dishes beautiful porcelain

The Berlin court is the only one of great poor Italy and Austria dine off gold daily The Kaiser's soup kitchen is superintend-d by disciples of two different schools at er's tables, chandellers and music galleries into the mint during the Seven Years' War, tive, Russian, English and Northern soups, and a Frenchman, well up in the potages of but it was sold by Frederick William III France and Italy. As both give proof of their after Prussia's defeat at Jepa.

SOME MARRIAGES OF ROYALTY.

Notable Instances Where Princesses Have Chosen Plebelan Husbands and Princes Have Married Plebeian Women.

WRITTEN FOR THE SUNDAY REPUBLIC. well to the glamour of a throne at the beau-Stefanie of Austria, the haptess wife of the royal prerogatives which she enjoyed as the widow of the self-slain future mon-arch. She is her following a custom by comeans rare in the house of the Hapsburns. Count Nelppers, her major-dome, after her return from France. The offspring of this marriage was known as the Prince of Montenuovo in translation of Newbergs, and the grandson of the first Prince of Monte-nuovo holds a preminent position at the court of Francis Joseph.

Women of royal blood are much more restricted in their selections of life partners than the men of their circle, for there are no morganistic marriages for them. Still there are some real love matches to record among Princesses who slopped from a royal pedestal to an unosternations existence by the side of the non-their descriptions.

An aunt of the Empress of Germany lives at Kiel as the wife of Professor von Esmarch. As a girl she was Princess Henrietta Elizabeth of Schieswig-Holstein-Son-derburg-Augustenburg, in 1872 she married, with the consent of her family, Profess Esmarch, who, fifteen years later, was granted a parent of nobility. Processor von Demarch is a celebrated scientist and physician, highly esteemed by the Princes of the imperial house, and the German Em-peror and Empress.

Romantic in the extreme is the history of the marriage of Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. She is the daughter of Prince Leo pold and the Princers Gisela, a grand-daughter of Emperor Francis Joseph and related by birth to other royal familles. One day she disappeared from the palace of the Wittelsbachs in Munich, the home of her parents. At the same time one of the handsomest young military attaches of the court was missed from his customary haunts. Baron Oito Scefried was the jox of society, and the Princess Elizabeth had fallen desperately in love with him File about, who was yet alive, inter-count of Meran, who are numbered maning the lower remance to an unit hoppy ending. Hondess his swelat inferiority, the Barron was a Limberan, while the Rayan fan dynamy numbers noise but Cathodes. Lengt and tellous were the precedings that the Empeter's consent the opera singer and cellous were the precedings that the Empeter's consent the opera singer and tellous were the precedings that the Empeter's consent the opera singer and tellous were the precedings that the Empeter's consent the opera singer and and was some part of the continue of the princess of the princes "Her Highness the Countess Stefan's happy ending, Bosides his social inferiority the Earon was a Lutheran, while the Raya of a woman of royal blood, who hade fare-I fered and brought the love romance to an unhappy ending. Bouldes his social inferiority. tiful Castle of Miramare to find barroners intervened between the Princese's disap-in a second marriage with a quest-plebeian pearance and her ultimate marriage at bustand. Genoa, December 2, 1831, Baron von Scoffied a still more hapless Crown Prince, was destined to become Empress of Austria at the time she married Francis Joseph's eldest son, Rufolph, Fate decreed otherwise, and now in middle age she has cast aside her repeatedly, to rejoice, like an income middle age she has cast aside.

ENGLISH.

January.

March.

April

June.

July.

September.

November

December.

SPANISH.

Enero.

Marzo.

Abril

Junto.

Julio.

Septlembre.

Diciembre.

Octubre.

HEBREW.

Tebeth.

Shebat.

Nisan.

lyar.

Tamuz.

Tilliuf.

Tishrt.

Heshvan,

Austria, in 1888, he had been murried for years to the charming Anna, doughter of Pestmaster Plachel of Aussee. She was made a Countess of Meran, and became thus the founder of one of the most flouristic thing families in all Austria, that of the Count of Meran, who are numbered among the most welcome guests at the court of Drancia Joseph.

Brancia for his second wife, in North Journaryman tailor, after he had raised to the Countess of Austria, and removes obstationally families in all Austria, that of the Which Prince Atexander of Hesse contracted in 1891 with the Countess Judie von the looker-on.

Plantage for his second wife, in North Journaryman tailor, after he had raised to the position of a Countess well as at looksmiths, and removes obstationally family family

Rebt el Awwel

Reb! el Accher.

Djoum el Accher.

Redjeb.

Schaban.

Ramadan.

Djoul Cadeh.

Moharrem.

Sufar.

Djoul Hedjeh.

royal blood. A few of the most interesting occurred in the Hapshorg dynasty when Archduke John became Resent of Austria, Ir is a Hapshorg has father of the Prince Regent of Austria, in 188, he had been married for Hapshore for the Prince Regent of Hapshore for the Austria, in the character Austria, and the character Austria, in the character and the control of the country of the

FRENCH

Feyrier.

Mars.

Juillet.

Septembre.

Novembre.

Cictobre.

Acut.

Mal

Juin.

NAMES OF THE MONTHS IN TEN LANGUAGES.

Februarius.

Martius.

Aprilia.

Maius.

Junius.

Julius.

Augustus

October.

November.

GERMAN.

Januar.

Februar

Maers.

Mnt.

Junt.

Juli.

August:

October.

September,

November.

PAY OF ARMY OFFICERS.

Chestnut.

Walnut.

Fisher. Muliberry.

Turkey.

Buffalo.

Strawberries

Small Corn.

Watermelon.

Green Corn

ITALIAN.

Febbraro.

Marzo.

Maggio.

Glugno.

Lugito.

Aguste.

Ottobre.

Novembre.

Aprile

EGYPTIAN.

Barmahat.

Barmudeh.

Bashansh.

Bawaneh.

Abib;

Mesre.

Babeh.

Hater

Kibak.

BOY'S SWEET VOICE WON A FORTUNE.

Tony Logomarsino Sang for His Grandfather, and Now He and His Two Brothers Will Get Wealth From Italy.

In two weeks from now three Americanorn Italians will divide between them an inheritance of 40,000 france ($5,000). Not so much when it is split into three parts, but in this case an unexpected nest egg. nevertheless.

The three fortunate young men are Lawrence, Joe and Tony Locomursino, aged, respectively, 20, 27 and 24 years. The testator who left them the money is their grandfather, Angelo Logomarelno, who died in Genoa, Italy, some two months ago. Their father died in 1879, and the mother mar-ried again some time afterwards. They had emigrated from Genea to this country and located in the Italian colony here. The sons were born in this country, and speak Engish and Italian equally well.

Tony, the youngest, became the favorite bles for the folks in the neighborhood, or i his granufather when the latter visited when the fire inddies at the corner, a few of his granufather when the latter visited when the fire incides at the corner, a few the family, some fifteen years ago. At that doors from his house halt him as he passes

Tony warbled himself into the affection figure. His other brothers are ortisans, one a carpenter, the other a painter, All are married and raising families, And, naturally, all are clated over the inheritance,

"Tony, warble again, If you do, I'll never

And, now, when Tony Logomarsino war-up two establishments-their own aboard not mentioned-that is, that the males are outp and one for the family ashore; but, entirely migratory and the females are not. on the other hand, the social obligations After the lakes and still waters freeze the incurred by an army officer are more nu- mergansers go to the rivers which are open merous and more expensive. eral to a civilian, but he is ignorant of many | female merganeers on the Au Sable River of the outlays unavoidable in the service. all winter, and I have frequently seen them The cost of uniforms and accourtements on the other Adirondack rivers; but I have tions is at least twice as much as the tailor | never seen a male merganser in the winter, bill of the average well-dressed business man, and there are many corps entertain-ments to which each man in the meas must contribute his pro rata. Some of our Con-creasmen are lond in collections of the man are global to the merganisers appear in the spring they

A Migratory Fisherman. 3

I have noticed a habit of this bird that plain, and took out of her sixty small believe is entirely unique, and one I am perch. James R. Graves present."—Applesurprised that our authorities on birds have tons's Popular Science Monthly, of his grandfather to stay. He grew to be a young man, and followed the occupation of barkooper. He is a picturesque young fellow, with deep black eyes, raven black hair, a well-moided face and an athletto which came as unexpectedly as it is wel-They were notified of their grandfather's time Tony was a schooliey, who could by, and ioin him in a song, he laughs, warble like a bird. He warbled for his granifiather whenever the latter desired, and the old man often said:

in some places on the rapids all winter. The pay of both branches seems very lib- For more than twenty years I have seen and in the late fall the males and females contribute his pro rata. Some of our Congressmen are loud in calling attention to the fact that United States officers are pold more than those of any other country. That is true, but they fall to state that the foreign service is made up almost entirely of moblemen and members of the aristocracy, who have abundant private means to sustain their rank."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Think the merganser lives entirely on the surprising to one who has made no observations on the subject to know what an enormous number of young lish a flock of these ducks will destroy in their rank."—New Orleans Times-Democrat. found in her throat and stomach one pickerel, four black bass and eleven sun perch. Hob (my brother) present. October 18, 1882, killed same kind of duck on Lake Cham-